Statement on Environmental Information

This document outlines MicroGate Systems LTD (MicroGate) current understanding of obligations for communication of multiple environmental directives and regulations pertaining to articles and components MicroGate supplies and disclosure of MicroGate's actions to appropriately address such requirements.

Compliance with REACH Regulations

MicroGate certifies SyncLink products are REACH compliant under the definition of the REACH regulations EC1907/2006.   REACH requires suppliers to inform recipients if a product contains a Substance of Very High Concern (SVHC) in excess of 0.1% by weight. SyncLink adapters have no known uses of any of the SVHC listed, as part of the latest 205 substances and updated by ECHA on January 16, 2020, above the 0.1% regulatory threshold. Chemical intermediaries used in manufacturing are not considered applicable. Please refer to the following ECHA list for the most current candidate list of substances: http://echa.europa.eu/candidate-list-table.

MicroGate is constantly engaging suppliers to obtain additional information and assurances. MicroGate will continue to comply with REACH requirements and notify customers of any change in article content.

The EU RoHS3 rules are designed to restrict the use of certain hazardous materials in the manufacture of various types of electronic and electrical equipment. MicroGate is fully aware of these rules and monitors the latest developments in legislation and official implementation guidance.

Statement on California Proposition 65

California Proposition 65 requires businesses to provide warnings to Californians about significant exposures to chemicals that cause certain harm. These chemicals can be in the products that Californians purchase, in their homes or workplaces, or that are released into the environment. By requiring that this information be provided, Proposition 65 enables Californians to make informed decisions about their exposures to these chemicals.
